Professor Thomas,

CNN was amazing today! I got to meet Kate Bennett and immediately fell out. I love that she was able to combine her love for pop culture and entertainment with such a political position reporting in the White House.

Here's a picture from today. (Don't worry, I'm definitely curling my hair and going all out with my makeup for tomorrow!)

I just wanted to thank you again for the beautiful opportunity. Courtney and I were pretty hands on during each question and answer portion, hope we made you proud!

Also, thank you for the pictures from my presentation! They're great and it meant a lot to me to look out in the audience and see you smiling back. I hope you have a great day. I'll send you some more pictures after tomorrow!
